Dear Mr Weisberg,

Thank you for your final letter.

I sent you copies of "The Great Rebel", "Pentagonism", and "J.F.K. Assassination File". The latter has only academic value but the former contains significant information "Pentagonism" deserves serious study.

The difficulty of obtaining and publishing material about "The Company" can be illustrated by the enclosed article.

I have some experience and friendships with "Company" employees and in fact my family once rented their summer home from the late Mathias Correa, one of a three man board who reviewed The C.I.A. in 1948 for President Truman.

Consequently, I understand the herculean task of extracting verifiable information from any source. Those willing to talk. Will do so only "off the record" and "informers" usually prove upon closer checking to be "worthless papa" hangers like Bailey.

Practically nothing substantive has been published or is publishable about the domestic operations of "The Company."

The penetration of "The Company" and its affiliates has occurred on many levels — from The Mafia (See the Book of Herbert Itkin) to American Friends of The Middle East.

The operational pattern of The King assassination followed The Dallas election even in small details.

The Murder of Robert Kennedy was procedurally different.

The about face of William Hunt seems instructive.

As long as "racists" were presumed the guilty parties Hunt was quite willing to track down leads. But when it became apparent his information was leading into a different area, he joined the chorus of "no conspiracy."

It's an American Tragedy.

Sincerely

Edward R. Williams
